"Before registering a motor vehicle, the Engineering Officer shall be satisfied that:—

(1) the motor vehicle, if it exceeds in weight sixteen tons, is capable of being so worked that it may travel either forwards or backwards;

(2) (a) the motor vehicle is equipped with two entirely independent and efficient braking systems or with one efficient braking system having two independent means of operation, in each case so designed, constructed and maintained that the failure of any single portion of any braking system shall not, even under the most adverse conditions, prevent the brakes on two wheels or in the case of a motor vehicle having less than four wheels on one wheel, from operating effectively, so as either to hold such vehicle from revolving or to have the same effect in stopping the motor vehicle as if such wheel were so held;

Provided that, in the case of a single braking system, the two means of operation shall not be deemed to be otherwise than independent solely by reason of the fact that they are connected either directly or indirectly with the same screw shaft;

(b) in the case of a motor vehicle having more than three wheels and equipped with two independent braking systems each such system is so designed, constructed and maintained that if it fails (either directly or indirectly) on two wheels only, it shall act on two wheels on the same axle;

(c) Where in the case of a single braking system, the means of operation are connected either directly or indirectly with the same screw shaft, the brakes applied by one of such means shall act on all the wheels of the motor vehicle directly and not through the transmission gear;

(d) in all cases, the brakes operated by one of the means of operation shall be applied by direct mechanical action without the intervention of any hydraulic, electric or pneumatic device;

(e) in all cases, the brakes operated by one of the means of operation shall act directly upon the wheels and not through the transmission gear;

(f) except in the case of a motor vehicle with or without a side car attached, the braking system, or one of the braking systems, is so designed, constructed and maintained that it can be so set as effectively to prevent two at least, or in the case of a motor vehicle having only three wheels, one at least of the wheels from revolving when the vehicle is left unattended;

(g) the motor vehicle and all its fittings are in such a condition as not to cause, or likely to cause danger to any person;

(h) the motor vehicle is so constructed and used that no smoke, vapor, noise or unnecessary material shall be emitted therefrom, except from some temporary or accidental cause, in such quantity as to cause annoyance or danger to the public;

(i) the motor vehicle is fitted with a safety, expansion chamber or other contrivance, suitable and efficient for reducing as far as may possibly be practicable, the noise caused by the escape of the exhaust gases from the engine; and

(j) if the motor vehicle is propelled by steam—

(a) it is so designed, constructed and maintained that it shall contain its own smoke; and

(b) it is fitted with an efficient 'spark arrester'.

Two scholarships are awarded each year for training in a technical subject outside India. No applications are invited for these scholarships, but Directors of Public Instruction are at liberty to submit the applications of suitable candidates before the first of January of the year in which they desire to pursue their studies in Europe. The scholarships are of the value of 2500 a year payable for period of three or four years according to the course of study to be pursued, free passage and passage from Bombay to London and back are provided. The scholarships were originally confined to graduates of Indian universities under the age of 25 years, but it has been subsequently decided to consider also applications from non-graduates who are successful in examinations set conducted by a university, and to admit them by giving them any hand and such rules specifying an age limit. These scholarships are not ordinarily awarded to students to study subjects in which suitable provision for training is available in India. Furthermore, only those students are considered for these scholarships who are brilliant and whose fathers have rendered exceptional services and have very limited means.

the ground. The wind, rain and general weather registered are for the current civil day—from midnight to midnight.

The total quantity of rain collected since 1st January is 9.65 inches, the average due for the same period being 7.17 inches.

There were eight calm hours during the month. The resultant corresponding to the above numbers is represented by an SE. wind, blowing with a uniform daily velocity of 16.6 miles.

The only important feature of the weather during the month was the prevalence of unsettled conditions in the south of the Bay of Bengal between the 10th and 15th during which thunderstorms with locally heavy falls occurred on the Coromandel Coast and in places inland. Nagapattinam reported six inches and Cuddalore four inches on the 14th and Tenkasi nearly four inches on the next day. Madras received 1.5 inches of rain during this period. Thunderstorms were recorded at Madras on four days and at least lightning on one other day.
